05/10/2021: With the current state of things appliance availability continues to be fluid. We have added some models that have better current availability. Any of the models on the contract may be unavailable for short to extended periods of time at any time. We try to keep ahead of those fluctuations. These problems are due to plants not running at capacity, parts shortages and also due to some incoming trucking and shipping situations. If end users need something within a 90 day time frame they may want to call or email for current status before ordering. We will make people aware of any items not currently available for potential changes to PO's.

02/25/2021: Price increase on most product items, due to Manufacture cost increases, as listed. Discontinued items have been replaced with replacement items and new Item numbers. Added products per customer request.
