Re: Second Reading
Date: November 12, 2014

Policy and Legal Services will present one Second Reading of a proposed policy modification during the next Board of Education meeting:

Article VIII.A.4.      Class Size

The class size policy was presented last month for a first reading. This policy was updated to keep in line with current expectations for creating class assignments and managing class loads for teachers. No revisions were made since the first reading.

Second Reading

Article VIII.A.4. Class Size

Class sizes are contingent upon many factors including but not limited to enrollment numbers, allocated FTE, programs offered in individual schools, mobility of student populations, requests from patrons, etc. In accordance with Utah State law and regulations, the District and its schools will make every effort to balance class-size loads and treat all patrons, students, teachers, and schools fairly and equitably. Decisions regarding specific assignments and class loads are made at the school level in consultation with the community council and faculty.
