PBG Update – Linda Mariotti The testing phase is coming to a close, we are now in the implementation phase. Training and re-training is on-going. District representatives are going out to community council meetings, parent meetings, etc upon request to explain PBG to parents. If you would like any training in your network – just ask.

As of yesterday, we have 4874 sections of PBG operation. There are 1220 teachers that are reporting through the grade book( between 1/4 and 1/3 of our teachers). We have 120 locations, and 91 of them have somebody at that location using PBG. Best of all, as of yesterday, 43,879 students are enrolled in at least one PBG course. There will be growing pains and training will need to continue. Linda handed out a pamphlet and FAQ sheet about PBG to be share as you see fit. The District is quite pleased with the groundswell of interest and commitment.

After hearing feedback and sensing concerns, Terry asked what we can do as a superintendency to help alleviate these concerns? Martin asked Linda to plan on reporting at the next DCC meeting on October 30. He asked her to show proficiency scale examples and report on what we, as a District, are doing to get the word out about PBG.

Cap and Gown – John Welburn John reported that Dr. Muse, High School Director, recently met with Jostens, who provides our caps and gowns for graduation. Jostens needs to replace all of their caps and gowns. Schools have been asked to consider going to one color for each school. (Many schools already have) If we do that, we can get the school emblem on them, possibly with secondary color on the sleeve (stripe). Jostens guarantees that they will have enough for the enrollment of each school for the life of these robes, which is 7 years. We are seeking feedback from the parents.

Safety and Emergency Training – Doug Larson We had a summer “bootcamp” in which every administrator had two days of training. The first day was led by the National Association of School Psychologists, who presented the PREPARE curriculum. The second day was led by District presenters. Although the first thing you think of is school shootings, we are more likely to have to deal with a natural disaster. They also talked about suicide prevention, trauma, and the psychological avenue. They discussed using the District psychologists/social workers appropriately and effectively.

Every year, each school fills out a SERP (School Emergency Response Plan) that works for their individual location. Each school has a crisis management team in their school. In addition, every school has an emergency quick reference guide in every classroom. This guide has step by step instructions for every situation. It is very condensed for easy reading, and should be reviewed by all employees. Doug also showed a video explaining “Run Hide Fight”.

Member Concerns:

*Ian extended an invitation to all parents–The Region 5 PTA is working with Parents Empowered and hosting a Town Hall at Skyline High on September 13 from 6:00-7:30. All parents are welcome and he asked the DCC members to spread the word. They also will be hosting a suicide symposium in January – he will bring more details as they are worked out.

*Parent from Olympus is concerned about overcrowded Kindergarten classes.

*Discussion about the best way to keep up to date on what is working/what issues other networks are dealing with. Do we want to have Networks report at DCC meetings, or should it be in email form?

*If you think of any more concerns/agenda items, please email Ben and it will included at the next meeting.

Meeting adjourned 8:10
